Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 1-8, 10, 14, 18 and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Phillips et al US Patent 6,511,512 B2.

Phillips discloses a shock module prosthesis having an inner support member (1), an outer support member (2) being coaxially and capable of relative rotation and axial translation, a resilient element (3), a torque resisting cuff (4) having a generally tubular shape and is proximally attached to one support member and distally attached to another support member, an adapter (5).

Regarding claims 2 & 3, bolt (41) (see Fig. 2) can be called a hinged pinch bolt.

Regarding claim 10, see Figure 7.

Regarding claim 14, see col. 21, lines 31-43.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3738

Claims 9, 17 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Phillips et al US Patent 6,511,512 B2.

Phillips et al discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Phillips et al does not disclose an axial length of the cuff that is greater about half the axial length of the inner member and an o-ring placed under the distal end of the inner member.

At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to disclose an axial length of the cuff that is greater about half the axial length of the inner member and an o-ring placed under the distal end of the inner member because Applicant has not disclosed that the axial length and the o-ring provide an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with the axial length of the inner member and the sealed connection at the distal end of the inner member because the axial length and the lack of an o-ring in the Phillips et al reference will not produce drastic change in the intended use of the invention.

Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Phillips et al reference to obtain the invention as specified in claims 9, 17 and 27 .

Claims 11-13, 15, 16, and 19-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Phillips et al US Patent 6,511,512 B2.

Phillips et al discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Phillips et al does not disclose a list of height distances.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the different ranges of claims 11-13, 15, 16 and 19-23, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 28-39 are allowed.
